THE TOWN RECORD

By MONTE DAYTON

Are the local real estate factions feuding?
Latest monkeyshines occurred Monday at one of the Callan model homes in their new tract.

A thief with an artistic, but hardly practical, bent busted in and made off with a $50 cuckoo clock (imported, tch, tch).

But the aesthetic piece ain't worth nothing. The viper forgot to take the weights and it won't work without 'em.

Maybe he'll get those next trip.

DAN ANDERSEN, city administrator, is sitting municipal duties out for a couple days while the flu bug consumes his time in an uncomfortable manner. Meanwhile, EVELYN COHN, his able scribe, holds down the civic fort.

You didn't know it, probably, but those football bleachers at Jeff H. ain't what they used to be.

Spies report that Building Inspector GEORGE HOPMAN will take a jaunt down there soon to see if they should be replaced.

No danger this year, though. The old reliables won't be sat in until next Spring when track season rolls around.

Whatis about a roistering boss of a locally circulated sheet who got bopped on the profile at an O'Farrell street dimlighter by one of the owner's relatives?

The story is he got back on his stool, ordered another whistle watter as if his editorial dignity hadn't been rumpled even the slightest.

Gee whiz, all that tither just to keep an advertising account.

The manv friends of MR. and MRS. WILLIAM HARBERTS will find a vacancy in friendship when the couple take leave of this city come end of December.

Mr. H. is the jolly pastor of Grace Presbyterian church, where he has served the past 10 years, acquiring a large retinue of followers. He's retiring from the church end of this month and the couple will move to Berkeley.

The pastor's many friends weren't limited to the denominational flock. He had a many all around town.

And he was a pretty good hunter, too, but I'm not going to be the one to tell you about his most famous brush with a game warden. All I know is that the old adage, "game-wardens should leave widows and clergymen alone," was born out, much to the chagrin of game warden in question.

Re the recent bit in this column about the proposed ordinance limiting dog owners to two of the animals, seems there's repercussions already.

A lady in town with several canine lodgers is rallying friends to the cause, and the city will have a fight on its hands if it purposes to put the doggie ordinance in effect.

A county newspaper gets partial blame for this one: Said GEORGE KIRCHHUBEL AND JAMES CRUDO were being heard by the state on alleged liquor law violations at Hilltop Lodge.

We quoted 'em. They wuz wrong. Kirchhubel and Crudo say they had already sold out the place before the alleged violation (serving to minors) happened.

Excuse us.

POLICE NAB SAFE CRACK SUSPECT

Tip From Informant Leads To DC Home

A man suspected by police of pulling "at least half a dozen" major safe cracking jobs in San Francisco over the past two-year period was picked up in Daly City yesterday (Thursday) morning.

Operating on a "tip" from an informant, San Francisco officers accompanied by Daly City police, picked up Alfio Vincio Marchi, 29, at his home on 6239 A Mission street.

He was booked on a technical charge of en route to San Francisco and held for questioning on several "major" safe robberies that have occurred within San Francisco during the past two years.

Wednesday, prior to Marchi's arrest, an unidentified caller told San Francisco police where they'd find a stronghold of safe cracking tools, allegedly belonging to Marchi.

On investigation, they located the storehouse, a garage, and found assorted cutting and welding equipment, punches, jimmies and, one source said, a revolver.

Police say Marchi rented the garage. According to police, Marchi admitted being involved in "four or five" jobs, but at press time yesterday had signed no statement to that effect.

Police said the burglaries being investigated involved "several thousand" dollars.

Marchi, an unemployed truck driver who police say has been out of work the past several weeks, has no record of prior convictions. A check of the records showed his only recent infraction of the law was a speeding ticket issued on August 7. At that time he gave his address as 175 Acacia avenue, San Bruno.

Sgt. Ted V. Goodson En Route To U.S. For Re-assignment

T/Sgt. Ted V. Goodson, 255 Wyandotte avenue, Daly City, is now on his return trip to the United States for his next assignment after completing a tour of duty with the Thirteenth Air Force in the Philippines.

To be stationed next with the 3415th Technical Training Wing at Lowry Air Force Base, Colo., he is arriving in San Francisco early in December aboard the USNS "General Patrick."

The sergeant was assigned to the 581st Air Resupply Squadron on Clark Air Force Base, 60 miles north of Manila, during his stay in the Philippines.

HIGH SCHOOL TRUSTEE POST REMAINS VACANT

Action to select a Jefferson Union High school district trustee as replacement for Tom Callan Sr., who was ruled ineligible for the post last spring, is still at a bottleneck. THE RECORD learned this week.

County superintendent of schools Earl B. Tormey has yet to complete selection of a citizens' committee to make a recommendation.

In case of a vacancy in a board position, regular procedure is for the superintendent of schools to name a citizens committee of five. This committee is to consist of a representative of business, labor, parental groups and two board members.

The citizens meet and make their recommendations, which are for-

In-Service Session Lauded By Teachers

A total of 137 members of the Jefferson Elementary school district met last week for an in-service program which replaced the former county-wide institutes. The first part of the program was a stillfilm produced by the National Education association entitled "The Teacher and Public Relations. The film depicted a typical teacher gaining the confidence of her pupils and their parents by supplying information about her work as a teacher.

Next on the program was an address by Superintendent H. Z. Weibel on the need for developing on the part of pupils the ability to think independently and how to develop reasoning powers. The importance of written composition as a means of achieving this goal was stressed by the speaker. (See text of address, editorial page.)

Following refreshments provided by Miss Aileen Suber and the teachers of Garden Village school the staff divided into grade level groups. Among the topics discussed were audio-visual education by Miss Marie Traynor and Mr. Thomas O'Connor, music by Mrs. Muriel Vint, speech by Miss Alfreda Belli, Physical education by Dennis Huajardo, guidance by Fred Schweickhardt, and curriculum by (Continued on Page 2)

POLICE STOP 837 CARS IN MISSION TRAFFIC SAFETY CHECK

A total of 837 cars were stopped last week in a traffic check held on 7200 Mission street for north-bound motorists.

Citations were issued for 67 mechanical defects, most of which were faulty lights.

The check was under supervision of Officers Henry Sundermann and Les Bastardo, assisted by eight auxiliary police.

The officers said more checks are planned for the approaching holiday season.

Thanksgiving Day Fires Keep Smoke Eaters Busy

Two minor Thanksgiving fires kept local firemen away from their turkey last week.

First call came at 8:30 p.m. from 11 Hillsdale. A clothes dryer belonging to Mrs. Mary Futernick became overheated, firemen said, and burned the garments inside. Damage was negligible according to Fire Chief Elmer Kennedy.

Later that evening Companies 1, 2 and 4 responded to a blaze at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Sullivan, 347 San Diego avenue. Apparently, firemen said, a burning cigarette had set the bed afire.

Approximately $500 damage was done to the bedroom.

The winner will be named one week before Christmas.

Judges in the lighting competition will be Joseph Toboni, president of the association; William Bolce, publisher; Thomas Bocci, judge; and Dennis J. Franco, bank manager.

Dugan Sentenced; Bocci Orders Out Of DC Six Months

Edward Francis William Dugan, 53-year-old San Francisco painter with a yen for Daly City night life, was sentenced in Judge Thomas L. Bocci's municipal court yesterday (Thursday) to a $100 fine or 20 days in the county jail and ordered to stay out of Daly City for six months.

He was charged with being drunk in a public place and disturbing the peace on October 17, but demanded a jury trial.

Tuesday the jury found Dugan guilty on both counts and Judge Bocci, who has met Dugan on previous official occasions, lowered the boom on him yesterday.

Dugan was arrested in October on complaint of Vince Merlo and Orlando Frederighi, proprietors of Vince & Fred's Cavern, 6278 Mission street.

They said he directed abusive language at them and the customers and acted in a general unruly manner.

A year earlier Dugan was involved in another court case with a Daly City tavern a few doors south of Vince & Fred's. At that time Dugan was pressing for damages, alleging that the establishment "defamed" his character by posting a "ridiculing" picture of him on the back bar. Dugan lost that case also.

John A. Putkey represented Dugan in his latest judicial foray.

WILL PLANT TREES IN BROADMOOR TO CURB SOIL EROSION

In an effort to curb erosion that comes each year with the winter rains, residents of Broadmoor will plant some 5000 sapling Monterey Pines Saturday, December 12.

The trees will be planted on the hillside in back of each home.

A meeting of captains for the project was held Monday and final plans were mapped.

Jack Baker and Herb Stettler are chairmen of the undertaking. The Scouts of the Broadmoor area have volunteered their services for the Saturday planting.

The chairmen announced that a mobile lunch wagon would provide food and drink for those aiding in the project.

TOMS ANNOUNCES POST OFFICE HOURS FOR CHRISTMAS RUSH

Holiday hours for the Daly City post office were announced this week by Leland R. Toms, postmaster.

Saturday, December 12, the local post office will remain open from 8 a.m. until 6 p.m.

The same opening hours will prevail on Saturday and Sunday, December 19 and 20, he said. The office is normally open until 1 p.m. on Saturdays and closed all day Sundays. Toms said the increased volume of Christmas mailing makes it necessary for the office to maintain longer hours.

SEMI-FORMAL DANCE FOR TEENAGERS SET FOR DECEMBER 19

"White Rhapsody" is the title chosen by Daly City's Misheven club for a semi-formal dance to be held Saturday, December 19, at the community center.

Tickets may be purchased from any Misheven club executive board member.

Contract Signed For Westlake Tree Planting

Henry Doelger, builder and developer of Westlake, announced today the signing of a contract for the planting of 996 trees in Westlake's units Number 4 and 5.

The tree plantings contract is in fulfillment of the subdivision's agreements filed with the Federal Housing Administration.

TRAFFIC SIGNALS TOPIC MONDAY FOR COUNCIL MEET

A special meeting of the city council to "expedite installation of traffic signals on the Alemany extension" in the Westlake subdivision will be held Monday night at 8 p.m.

A resolution calling for the closing of Belmont drive and opening of Cliffside drive into the extension freeway will be taken up by the council.

Mayor Anthony Gaggero explained that this will pave the way for the highway commission to give their final okay to the project when they meet next week. Otherwise, he said, the installation of the signals might be delayed another month.

Plans call for three-phase signals to be installed at the Alemany-Lake Merced boulevards juncture.

At Monday's meeting an agreement with the division of highways on the proposed Skyline freeway will be presented.

Second Safe Crack Attempt In Two Weeks "Fizzles"

An attempted safe crack last week that had all the earmarks of an earlier unsuccessful attempt at Jefferson high school is being investigated this week by Daly City police.

Police said sometime between Thursday and Friday burglars broke into the Economy Frozen Food Lockers, 60 Station avenue, by forcing a window open.

Investigating officers found the combination of the office safe sledged off and said an attempt had been made to "peel" the box.

Police said the method of operation was similar to that used by safe-crackers who botched an attempt at Jefferson Union High school a week earlier.

Only lead to date are two residents of the area who said they spotted a man Friday night leaving a car with a crow bar in hand. They described the car as a green Buick sedan and said the man appeared to be the "Latin type."

WESTLAKE ASSOCIATION COMMENTS ON SIGNALS

By Westlake Board of Directors
Improvement Association Directors trip to Sacramento brings relief to pedestrians and motorists of the Westlake Area.

Joseph P. Toboni Jr., president of the Westlake Improvement Association, should be given credit for his time and personal effort in arranging all necessary interviews for the following facts obtained by the Board of Directors:

Robert Aldermann, Secretary to Governor Knight, assured the Directors of the Westlake Improvement Association on their recent visit to Sacramento, that Governor Knight was anxious to see that the people of Westlake would enjoy the safety of traffic signals on Alemany boulevard. He arranged a meeting between President Joe Toboni, Directors Ed Molkenbuh and Archie Lumardi and Architectural Chairman, Cas Norton with H. H. Deardoff, of the Division of Highways, in Sacramento. Mr. Deardoff opened up the files on the subject of the traffic signals for Alemany Extension (Highway 56) at Westlake for the Directors. He unfolded an interesting insight into the long story of the traffic signals for Westlake.

The original recommendation for the traffic signals along Alemany boulevard at Lake Merced and Belmont drive respectively, was made by the Traffic Department of Public Works in 1950. At that time, a two phase system was recommended to provide stop and

A representative of THE RECORD and Del Wilson, local realtor, appeared before the San Francisco Public Utilities commission Monday evening to request extension of Bus No. 14 into Colma, and received assurance of the officials that a decision would be delivered within two weeks.

A total of more than 1000 names contained in Transportation Improvement Ballots and petitions were turned over to the commissioners.

No official representatives of Daly City were present.

Wilson told the board of the great need for improved bus service and explained that new housing tracts in southern Daly City would make this need even more acute.

Oliver M. Russo, president of the commission, said the petitions and ballots showed considerable interest in extending bus No. 14 from its present terminus at Mission and San Jose into the Colma area.

Russo said the board could not, at present, grant the extension. He turned the matter over to Utilities Director James Turner, and staff, and gave them two weeks to survey the need for such an extension.

He said their decision would be turned in on December 14.

The extension would mean that the No. 14 bus would travel an additional 9/10 of a mile into Market street and Mission. The present bus service operating into Colma, the No. 56, runs every half hour and has been greeted with much disfavor by riders.

Extension of the 14 would mean adequate transportation, offered every few minutes.

COLMA POLICE NAB MEXICAN "WETBACK"

A 25-year-old Mexican "wetback" was picked up here last week by John Pawson of the Colma police.

The Youth, Daniel Verdugo, whose address was given as 107 Bay, Old Mexico, was booked enroute to immigration service.

He was later picked up by immigration authorities.

Tavern Owner Fined For Liquor Violation

Ralph Anthony Carrillo, 49-year-old owner of Lovchen Gardens in Colma, was fined $100 in Judge Thomas L. Bocci's Municipal court Tuesday for violation of state liquor laws.

Carrillo pled guilty to charges that he sold liquor after hours on November 28.

go signals for these respective intersections. Under the supervision of the District Engineer of District IV plans for these two phase systems were drawn up. These plans together with the estimated cost were submitted to Daly City Council for their approval and appropriation of funds to partially finance the project. On the recommendation of the City Council the Division of Highways was asked to revise the plan to include a three phase signal system so that left hand turns off to Alemany boulevard could be made into the Westlake Tract. Because of this request for a revision of plans, a lengthy delay resulted. Finally, in July of this year work was commenced by the Division of Highways on the revision of the plans. Mr. J. A. Spence, district engineer, Division IV, in charge of the design for this project, showed the complete plans to Mr. Toboni and Mr. Norton on a follow-up trip to his office on November 23, 1953. The plans now include a three phase system at the intersections of Alemany boulevard, Lake Merced and Lynwood drive, and Cliffside drive and Park Plaza drive. Traffic islands and channeling will provide protection for left hand turns off Alemany boulevard. The plans are now complete and after a recheck by the various departments of Division IV, they were sent to the office of Mr. McCoy, director of highways in Sacramento on December 1. After routine (Continued on Page 2) approval by Mr. McCue's office, they will be submitted to the Board of Highway Commissioners of the State of California at their regular meeting in December, for the appropriation for the necessary funds (in excess of $65,000.00) for the completion of this project.

Mr. Fairbanks, of Governor
Knight's office, should be no delay in appropriating the funds and the letting of bids for the contract to install the traffic signals. Under the law it will require approximately six weeks for this routine procedure. Actual work on the project should commence about January 15, 1954.

On Monday evening, November
23, 1953, Mr. John S. Daniels, right of way agent for the Department of Public Works, visited the Directors in meeting and requested their assistance in making arrangements to move the Waiting Stations to suitable locations as suggested by the Department of Public Works. The Board of Directors appointed Director Bill
Ziegler to contact the Greyhound
Bus Lines so that the relocation of the waiting stations will meet with their approval.

Coincidentally, the Daly City Council passed a resolution on the same evening to approve the plans for the installation of the signals as submitted by the Division of Highways, District IV.

At last, the fact relating to the long awaited traffic signals promised for so many years to the people of Westlake have been fer-retted out. It is a testimonial to the present Board of Directors of the Westlake Improvement Association for their unceasing efforts on behalf of the people of Westlake, to bring to light the story behind the story of why we have no traffic signals in Westlake.

Don't forget the general election of a new Board of Directors to be held on the evening of Monday, December 7, 1953, at 9:00 p.m. in Jefferson Union High start promptly at 8:00 p.m., election, in accordance with by-laws, at 9 p.m.

Two present board members who have done an admirable job during the past year have announced their intention to serve the Westlake Membership once again. It is the sincere desire of the present Board of Directors that a vote of confidence and election be given to these two incumbents. Those also nominated by the nominating committee are:

Mr. Starr Dunham, Mr. C. J.

Thrifty Shopper Co. Prominent In Calif.

Since its beginning in 1937 by Charles H. Jacobs, the Thrifty Shopper Scrip company has become one of the largest of its kind in California.

Merchants from Santa Maria and Bakersfield to the Oregon border, and all of Nevada are using the $3.00 in merchandise stamp plan. In San Francisco it is recognized as the leading plan of its kind.

Jacobs, manager and owner was a newspaper man and publisher in San Francisco for many years. He was public relations director for the "Marriman For Governor" campaign in 1932.

He was the originator of the $3.00 in merchandise for scrip idea. Since then many companies have followed suit and employed a similar premium plan.

The main office of the Thrifty Shopper Scrip Co. is located at 444 Market street, with branch offices scattered throughout the state.

PROPOSALS COLD AS PORRIDGE

Before the off-street parking proposals made recently by the Chamber of Commerce get as cold as yesterday's porridge, we'd like to inquire as to the status of those proposals.

The Chamber, in a long and arduous study, compiled a book which they believed a legitimate treatise on the parking situation, and in that manuscript they entered what they thought to be some solutions to the problem.

Their next step, obviously, was to present these recommendations to the council, which they did, securing unanimous enthusiasm from the council, and a promise that an ordinance carrying out the Chamber's plans would be drafted. That was some six weeks ago (October 25 to be exact).

Now, with practically six weeks passing, the parking mess has gotten no further than 30 carefully typed pages of survey sitting forlornly in the city hall.

We wouldn't be quite so critical of this delay, had not precisely the same thing occurred on the last occasion when somebody attempted to do something about the pitiful parking setup in Daly City.

About a year ago, the Daly City Lions submitted to the council a carefully prepared "thesis" on Daly City parking, which the city fathers accepted with benign feeling and enthusiastic mutterings.

But that was the last of it and the Lions survey is no doubt now a book collector's item, if any of them are still extant.

Considering the careful evaluation the Chamber has made of the Daly City parking scene and bearing in mind the keen need for some measureable effort to ease the problem, we would think the council might find a civic minute or two to get busy on the ordinance.

WHO'S DRAGGING ON TRUSTEESHIP?

Because the Jefferson Union High school board of trustees have usually been unanimous in most of their recent decisions, the absence of one member of the board has not been greatly noticed.

However, we feel it neglectful on the part of the county superintendent of schools to leave Tom Callan's vacancy extend into nine months.

Last March Callan was relieved of his board position by the attorney general, who said that his jobs as county supervisor and school trustee were incompatible.

Since that time no concerted effort to fill the position has been made.

We realize that an administrative head of some several dozen county schools has a lot on his mind.

Still, it seems that someone is dawdling when nearly a year elapses with an important community position still unfilled.

BOUQUETS FOR "LIVE" CITIZENS

The matter of extending Bus No. 14 now rests in the hands of the San Francisco public utilities commission.

We would, at this time, like to applaud the many citizens who signed their names to petitions and ballots and the merchants who aided the campaign by posting the petitions in their establishments.

We also believe recognition is due Del Wilson, local businessman, who gave hours of time and effort to help put the project across.

If the efforts fail this time, those who rose to the task can at least feel that they were in there pitching.

The old bromide that "actions speak louder than words," is tired, but, nonetheless, true. The citizens who have shown a little action have spoken a lot louder, in our book, than the word-merchants who would see things remain at the status quo rather than expend a mite of energy.

Safety News From Your Local Police

COSTLY ACCIDENTS
Traffic accidents are costing Californians a million dollars a day.

The sum is figured by multiplying $95,000, the estimated cost represented by one traffic fatality by 10, the average daily traffic death toll in the state.

The sum also includes losses incurred in injury and property damage accidents such as loss of wages, medical and hospital expenses, auto repair and other property damage bills; and overhead insurance costs. Payment of insurance claims is included in wage loss.

The state's traffic accident bill for 1952, with a provisional death toll of 3,618, was $343,710,000.

Officials pointed out that last year's multi-million dollar burden was being shared by others than those directly involved in accidents, especially through higher insurance rates.

As an example of what the $343 million would have bought if used for constructive purposes, it would have paid for a multi-lane divided highway, excluding bridges and other major engineering structures, from Oregon to Mexico, and from the Pacific Ocean to California's eastern border.

Smith Questions Action Of Council In Rushing Brunswick Street Work

November 25, 1953
The Record
Daly City, California
Gentlemen:

A few weeks ago it came to my attention that plans had been prepared for building a high concrete retaining wall along the East side of Brunswick street where that remaining portion of a building has been hanging on the cliff since last winter. Because I own property in the immediate vicinity, I, quite naturally, was interested and surprised that no one had contacted me to learn what my plans were for the future development of that property, which will be affected by the plans and the work.

Upon looking over the plans and realizing how unsightly and ridiculous looking the intended 25-foot concrete wall would be and also what an eyesore to the whole city the house up on the remaining peak would be when the adjoining property is eventually graded to a lower, or street, level, I made a study of the situation and took several bids on a different plan, which was then suggested to the city administrator, city attorney and some of the councilmen. In doing so, I also took into consideration that under the city plan a dangerous and unsightly cliff, some 30 feet high, would remain on the other side of the street. Furthermore, I considered the added value it would mean to the city, and especially to that neighborhood, for the mistakes already made to be greatly minimized by performing this additional work in the best manner.

My suggested plan provided as follows: (1) That the old house up on the hill, built about 50 years ago, be lowered to within approximately 10-feet of the street level with a 10-foot wall to be built on that side, and (2) that, on the other side, where the school is, the Archbishop's Office enter into the plan and, by paying their share, entirely remove that high, unsightly, and dangerous cliff on the church property by grading it to the school yard level. I had already presented the matter to the Archbishop's Office, and was told that they were agreeable to entering into such a plan, especially in view of the fact that if that rocky cliff is not removed when this work is being done it will most likely remain there forever.

Last Monday evening, prior to the City Council meeting, an informal gathering was held, at which were present the City Administrator, the City Attorney, the Dykmans (owners of the property on the West side and the house up on the hill), myself, and others. The City Attorney stated that he had been notified by the local pastor of the church that the church desired to be included in the plan and would pay its proportionate share of the expense.

At the instance of the City Attorney it was decided that, with the strong possibility of having the entire job performed in a manner which would be best for the city and all concerned, the City Council should be requested to hold the matter over for at least one week's study. Assuming that this common-sense procedure would meet with the unanimous approval of all the City Councilmen, neither I nor any of the other interested persons deemed it necessary to attend the Council meeting which followed.

At the informal meeting every possible objection to the plan I suggested was analyzed and ironed out, consideration being given to the question of who would pay for the new plans (for the alternate solution which I suggested) in the event that the bids for that work were higher than for the work as already planned by the city. Knowing full well the advantages of my suggested plan over the other and, in addition, being fully confident that it could be carried out with a considerable saving, I volunteered (and agreed) to stand the expense of preparing the alternate plans if they should not be used.

In suggesting the alternate plan I supported my opinion by a background of many years of experience in varied lines, such as house-moving, building construction, grading, etc., together with the facts that I had bids from competent house-moving and other contractors. I am positive that that job could be done in a manner that would minimize the mistakes already made and which would be of inestimable value to our city.

To the utter amazement of myself and other interested persons, the City Council rejected the alternate plan and proceeded to call for bids for the erection of the high wall, etc.

Because of the fact that the alternate plan, which I have suggested, would unquestionably result in the savings of thousands of dollars to the taxpayers, would make possible the orderly development of property adjoining Brunswick Street, and, at the same time, would avoid a perpetuation of a gross blunder on the part of certain city officials, I cannot understand why a majority of the City Council so determinedly went ahead with the advertising for bids. When one pictures in his mind the city plan, which provides for a wall in excess of 25-feet in height on one side of Brunswick street and a rocky cliff about 30-feet high on the other side, and then, by way of comparison, visualizes a ten-foot wall on the one side and the other side graded to a level with the street and schoolyard, with a very probably saving of money, he will better understand the mistake the City Council is making in proceeding with the present plan.

Very truly yours,
H. H. Smith

Writing Given High Priority In Teaching - - Weibel Address

(Ed Note: Below is the address made by H. Z. Weibel at the recent in-service session held for 137 members of the Jefferson Elementary School district teaching staff.)

As you all know this session for becoming better acquainted with the program in our own system was made possible by a change in the School Code by the last session of the Legislature. The change in the law was explained in the letter you received from Supt. Torrey.

I have written a letter to Torrey stating I hope the County-wide or some regional wide meeting will be revived. There is value in teachers meeting in large groups with their fellow teachers and being able to hear outstanding speakers on vital topics related to the tasks which face us.

This is not to discredit, or to mitigate the importance of the session today. We need the kind of program being offered today. The greatest handicap to having more of these programs is our double sessions. Once we are on regular sessions we will be able to have more general teachers meetings and fewer small group meetings.

That is why we use so much of our time and effort on the building program—our greatest weakness is a lack of space to house the pupils. Once regular sessions are achieved, hundreds of our present problems of discipline, dissatisfaction, and inconveniences will automatically cease to exist.

In the meantime we need to sharply define our aims and objectives. What should be our goals with the children enrolled in our classes? What methods shall we use to effectively reach those goals?

In a recent survey in Baltimore 10,000 persons were asked to rate in importance the seven essentials of the public school program. Which do you think was rated first? The 3 R's? Training for making a living? Ability to get along well with others?

Here is the list in the order of importance as selected by the 10,000 persons who voted:
Character training was rated the most important essential of the school program.

Second place went to teaching a child how to think independently and how to develop reasoning powers.

Teaching the three R's was chosen for third place, understanding the duties and responsibilities of citizenship was fourth, guidance programs designed to direct young people into fields where they stand the best chance for success was fifth, training for jobs was sixth, and adapting the educational program to individual differences was seventh.

One can certainly not question the placement of character training as first. We can develop young people into perfect robots in proficiency in the 3-R's, but we have failed if that proficiency is not properly used. Of what value is facility in handwriting if it is used to forge checks? What good does it do to teach children to read well if their reading matter consists of the salacious spewings of a Mickey Spillane or lurid comic books? Arithmetical computation is better unlearned if it is used for fraud and embezzlement.

Of the second choice, how to think, much can be said. Teachers need to take careful stock of their aims in whatever subject they teach. There is opportunity to develop the thought processes in every subject, but none I think so much as in writing. And here is an area that is too often neglected for more glamorous activities.

In this day and age of radio, television, movies, pictured magazines and commentators who do our thinking for us as teachers have tremendous competition in our goal to develop independent thinking.

The world is full of talk, talk, talk. A fluent vocabulary is relatively easy to acquire and too often helps people get by without really saying anything.

With writing it is different. What gets put on paper is there to study, to ponder over, and to check on. It reveals the depth of the writer's learning and mentality. It makes possible a measure of progress and a measure of persistence which in the final analysis is the quality that distinguishes between success and failure.

The teacher can and needs to develop the pupil's ability to express himself in writing. Give him the opportunity to choose his own subject, try out his composition on himself to see if it makes sense, don't punctuate for him, tell him it isn't clear and he should write it so it is, have the class comment on the finished product, and above all do not expect all pupils to turn in a perfect paper. Give credit when it is obvious the pupil has done the best he can and he will do better next time.

In summary, I want to leave these impressions: training in character should be our first objective; training in the ability to think should be second. And training in the ability to think can be best achieved through writing.

Every teacher teaches writing. The kindergarten or first grade teacher who teaches the steps which lead to writing is teaching writing.

Give writing a high priority in your teaching efforts.

PETRIFIED FOREST

"Petrified Forest National Monument, located about twenty miles east of Holbrook in Arizona, is reported by the National Automobile Club to contain the petrified remains of prehistoric trees, some as large as two hundred and fifty feet in length and all blended in gorgeous hues.

The first transcontinental automobile trip, requiring 63 days, was commenced June 18, 1903.

Daly City Youth Will Participate In Concert

A concert composed of piano, violin and accordion renditions will be presented Sunday at the Masonic Temple in San Francisco by students of Mrs. Edna Hyers music studio.

Some 40 Daly City children will participate in the mixed program, which will include classical, light classical and popular selections, presented in both solos and duets.

The musical offering begins at 2 p.m. and last until 4 p.m.

During the intermission Hilton Kessler, a student of world famed accordionist Galla-Rini, will perform.

Those performing in the concert will range in age from 5 to 14 years.

The Temple where the concert is to be held is located at 1748 Haight street.

OUT OF THE KITCHEN

An ordinary kitchen cleanser, the kind the housewife keeps around the sink for pots and pans, is one of the most effective agents for removal of tar or other substance particularly hard to get off tires. Mechanic's soap, which contains a mild abrasive, is another substance that may be used for the same purpose.

California's tuna canning industry produced more than eight million cases in 1952 for the second time in history.

Washing the face with wine, following a hot bath, is a historic recipe for beauty dating from the reign of Queen Elizabeth.

YOUR NEIGHBORS AND MINE

By Betty Brush

Hello Neighbors:
December with all its holidays and company has now arrived. Although it is the last month of the year it seems to hold the most for all of us. One and all are in the midst of Xmas shopping, plans for visitors and a general air of happy active month. Nevertheless there were some activities that took place in the last week of November so here they are for you.

MISS DOLLY CASTELLANO celebrated her 16th birthday on Monday, November 23. All her family and friends gathered to wish her many happy returns of the day. Happy birthday from all the folks too, DOLLY.

Sympathies are extended this week to the family of MR. FRED GARDELLA who passed away last week. Mr. Gardella was well known among the neighbors for his sunny smile and many kindnesses in his daily contact with all those he met in his grocery store on Crocker avenue. He was a veteran of World War II and a Solemn Mass of Requiem was celebrated for the repose of his soul at Our Lady of Perpetual Help church.

ROSS MULLER, son of MR. and MRS. J. MULLER of Hillcrest drive, is in Junipero Serra hospital. Being ten years old, Ross had looked forward to Thanksgiving Day with all the anticipation of a boy his age. What happens—just one of those things that seem to inevitably happen to children. Ross spent a most uncomfortable Thanksgiving Day. The day before he received a very badly cut leg when he fell on broken glass while playing in an empty lot near his home. He was taken to the hospital where stitches were taken and then he was sent home. The leg not responding to daily treatment, Ross was hospitalized and at last reports was resting comfortably. Get better soon, Ross, all your friends miss you.

Items of Interest

This is an open letter to all the neighbors in general and a few in particular. The subject is an old one—DOGS! This article is also a request. This, I know, is a touchy subject and has been discussed before. There are city ordinances regulating the activities of our canine friends. Nevertheless, one cannot have a lawn, a garden, shrubs, or even let the little ones out to play without menace of a dog in one form or another. In the Los Banos-Los Olivos-Hillcrest area there are 17 dogs, (they have been counted) some with tags and most without, that roam at will. Did you ever go to all the trouble to seed and plant a lawn, shrubs, rosebushes or just plain garden? Have you ever sat back with the complete satisfaction of a day's work well done and then gotten up the next morning and found dogs, dogs, and more dogs using your newly planted lawn for a convenience station? It really makes one feel good—good enough to kick the first dog that one sees. I have no dogs. I do have shrubbery all along the 110 foot side of my house and fence. More than once I've picked up the papers underneath them and surprise—the dog's gift to his neighbors garden is there. All one and all of us ask of those who own dogs is, "Please keep them in their own back yards. Let them dig and otherwise on their own property." Our taxes do not cover the privileges of our neighbors dogs.

Saw Daly City's "mailman with a personality," CHARLIE COSTELLO, today. He still has the same nice smile and pleasant greeting for one of the neighbors that he always had. He's getting ready for the Xmas rush and is just one of the boys who gave up their Sunday to collect for the Muscular Dystrophy Fund. It is a pleasure and a privilege to be served daily by men of Charlie's caliber.

Oh, no! Here I get it all set up and then they cross me up. The WANDERING HARLANS are wandering again! Instead of spending their holidays in New Orleans like they told me they were going to, they have moved on to El Paso, Texas. While there they intend to visit Foofie's cousin and spend the holidays. You may count on it, but I won't. The next letter may have them in Mexico. Well, at least it would be warm there. Have fun, Kids, wherever you are.

MR. and MRS. ROBERT E. COCHRAN who are well known for their activities in the YFW have now moved to School street in our town. Mr. Cochran is well known in Daly City having been raised here. A hearty welcome to the Cochrans is extended from all the neighbors.

Servicesmen

P.F.C. BABE HUNTSMAN of the U. S. Marines was heard from this week. Babe is still in Florida as a jet mechanic and while he couldn't make it home for Thanksgiving, he's sure planning on seeing all of us at Xmas time.

CPL. JERRY FAGAN of Korea was heard from this week, too. Seems like it is very cold where he is now. That isn't too bad, he can contend with that. The main thing is that Jerry is lonesome for all the folks at home. He is stuck way up on a hill that no one seems to want, least of all him, and he would very much like to be home.

P.F.C. BILL BRANDT, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Brandt of Knowles avenue, is the latest of the boys who are leaving us for a tour of Japan and Korea. He is at the present time on 24 hour notice for departure and by the time you read this will most probably have left with the 3rd Marine Division for overseas duty. Bill, I remember from a long time back. It really doesn't seem possible that he is old enough to be going away.

When I talked to him last he had such a great big grin and was so very proud of the Corps that I know he will always be a credit to his outfit. Come home soon, Bill, and in the meantime write. THE RECORD will follow you and you will be able to keep in touch with all the rest of the gang.

P.F.C. AL FRIEND of the U. S. Marines is already in Korea. He and Bumpsie Brandt have been friends for a long time. Al hopes that they meet while they are there. One thing that makes Al real happy is the fact that rotation home is not far in the future. He hopes that it will be in the first part of next year.

Another of your boys and mine is waiting to be shipped out. They don't call it waiting. They call it "sweating it out." Of course it really doesn't help that he is leaving at this time of year and will spend Xmas on the high seas. P.F.C. DICK HENNING of the Marine Corps is ready to go wherever and whenever they send him. According to him, "It's my job and one that no one can do for me. I get home." Bon Voyage, Dick, and don't forget to write. We'll all be waiting to hear from you.

This is an excerpt from a letter that I personally received which I wish to pass along to you. "I would like to take this opportunity to thank you for making my son's holidays last year so beautiful and full of meaning for him. I felt badly that he was not here but never really worried too much as I knew he had a 'home away from home,' as he called it. Mac, as you know, is no longer with us. He said that he had called you before he left so you were the last that he talked to. There is so much that I would like to say but my heart is too full. I am sure that you will understand. Thanking you again from Mac's family for all you did for him. We will always be in your debt." Then it is Remember, neighbors, the boys are still going and there are many who have been gone for a long time. If you really want to enjoy your holidays open your house and your hearts to a lonely boy who is far away from home. It may be his last Xmas. Someone will do the same for your boy when the time comes. Who is in who's debt? Mac gave as much if not more than he received. His smile will live on forever.

MR. and MRS. H.S. GARRISON of Northgate avenue are the proud parents of a baby boy. Young Robert Michael Garrison, who weighed 6 lbs., 14 ozs., was welcomed home not only by mama and papa but by his two older brothers. Mrs. Garrison will be remembered by all as the former columnist Diane Daly who wrote Talk of the Town in THE RECORD awhile back.

The MOTHERS CLUB bazaar will be held this Sunday in the school auditorium. It has always been a success and this year gives promise of being even bigger and better than before. A turkey dinner will be served throughout the day, and there will be entertainment to interest all. The following ladies are in charge of the various booths. General chairman is MRS. L. THIEBAUT, who is the president of the Mother's club. The sewing booth will be handled by Mesdames PETER LOFRANO, MERVIN CREST, WILL OXEN-DINE and others. Behind the candy counter one will find many well known faces including MRS. DOROTHY STEWART, ISABELLE LIBERTI, LESLIE LINHARES, GEORGIANA CLARK, MARIAN BALESTRERI, MARY LOUISE SHUBERT, JOSEPHINE HETTEL and MILDRED BARONI. MRS. JOBS DAUGHTERS TO HOLD BAZAAR, DINNER

Bethel 198, Jobs Daughters, will hold a bazaar and enchilada dinner tonight (Friday) at the Masonic Temple, 17 Hillcrest drive. The event will begin at 6 p.m. and tickets will be sold at the door.

The bazaar is being presented by the sewing club of the Bethel, while the dinner is Guide Jo Ann Kahn's project for the term.

Money from her dinner will go to the Bethel treasury, as will proceeds from the bazaar.

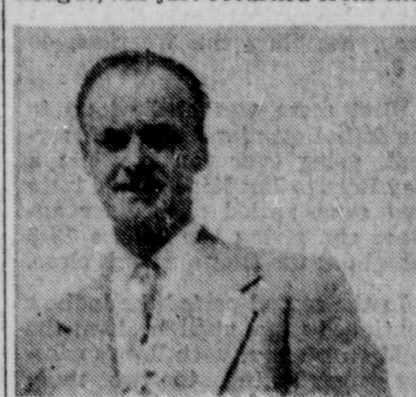

Tickets are 75 cents per person. See you.

MR. and MRS. LYAL INGERSOLL of Hanover street were host to twenty-two friends of their travels abroad on the Lurline at a buffet dinner last week. After a very wonderful dinner the friendly group compared pictures taken and were shown the movies that Mr. Ingersoll had taken of the trip. They are all making scrap books of their trip which should not only be interesting but of sentimental value. A wonderful evening was enjoyed by all as the Ingersolls are noted for their hospitality.

Well, neighbors, another week, another column. This one has just about everything in it. A little gossip, happiness, and some sadness, too. That is really the recipe of life when you get right down to it. There is always something of interest to all happening in this town of ours so why not call PL. 5-6482 and let me have it to pass on to the neighbors. The Xmas trees are out and I have actually seen one in the window so it won't be long now until that wonderful time of year is with us again. Remember when you make out your Xmas card list folks, include at least one of the boys who are spending their Xmas away from home so that we may spend ours at home. Until next week—bye now.

"GREATEST BAZAAR" TITLE FOR OLPH MOTHERS CLUB WINTER FUNCTION HERE

"The Greatest Bazaar of all" is the slogan of this year's Winter Bazaar given by the Mothers' Club of Our Lady of Perpetual Help Parish, which will be held this Sunday, Dec. 6, in the school hall at 80 Wellington avenue.

To enable parents to enjoy the fun the club this year will serve a turkey dinner—adults $1.00, children 50c. Hot and cold delicatessen can also be purchased from the cafeteria section of the bazaar. Of particular interest to parents of girls will be the "doll booth" and of course the usual toy booth will hold the interest of the small fry.

Another section which is always fun is the "surprise package booth" where you can get a prize of anything from a toy to a piece of jewelry, but you'll never know until after you win the sealed bag.

The grocery booth, a great help to housewives at holiday time, will enable you to win a bag of groceries just by taking a chance. The cake booth as well will give you dessert for dinner for just a small token—but its all in the game.

The members of OLPH Mothers' club invite everyone to the bazaar which will benefit OLPH school, and help make it a success but most of all to win a few prizes and have fun at the church hall. Admission is free.

VARSITY CAGERS OPEN "TOUGHEST" SKED TODAY AGAINST MISSION

Faced with what Coach Mike Orlich terms their "toughest practice schedule in history" Jefferson's 1953 PAL basketball title holders open the season today (Friday) at 3:15 p.m. against Mission of San Francisco on the Daly City pavilion.

Returning from last year's championship team to bolster tonight's starting line-up will be Forward Don Delbon, Guards Wally Honeywell and Tom Costello.

Replacement in the first-five for Center Wayne Lovelace, who graduated, will be John Madden, who saw considerable action last year.

Ray Rosa will round out the starting line-up. Rosa, along with Madden, ranked as sixth and seventh man on last year's high scoring team.

Other players who may provide competition for starting posts are Jim Honeywell and Wesley Yates up from last year's varsity reserves.

Also strong contenders are Jerry With, Al Figone and Darrell Hutchinson, members of last year's 30s club.

Services of Dan Bertelli, a varsity reserve last year, may be lost for the season, Orlich said. Bertelli injured his knee in the gym and is on crutches at present.

The Jeffs practice schedule this year calls on them to face the cream of the California basketball crop. On December 12 at the local court the Indians will renew the home and home series with Sonora that began last year on the northern court. The Jeffs dropped the decision to the Sonorans last year, in one of their few losses of the year. The north country crew went on to win the Valley-Oak league championship and are reported loaded again this year.

The following week the locals will face Redding, on the latter's court. The Redding team is being touted as No. 1 in the state. Orlich figures if his underdogs can get through all the practice games without a loss, they'll risk as one of the top squads in California.

As for a repeat title-winning performance in PAL competition, Orlich is mum as yet. "It's hard to say," he ponders. "I'll know better when I see the kids in action after the first few practice sessions."

Despite Orlich's somewhat Pappy Waldorfish outlook, there is still plenty of money, figuratively speaking, riding on the Indians to turn the trick again this year.

What with three returning first stringers and two players who played as much as the regulars, the squad hardly seems to have suffered much of a decline.

PAUL'S TOP KEG PLAY

Local Eagles Swallow Three Straight Losses

The Daly City Eagles, leading the Daly-Colma Bowling league last week along with Paul's Flowers, got blanketed Tuesday night by King's Market and were forced to swallow third place in the standings for a while.

King's was right down the alley all night as they rolled high team series. 2642, and high team game, 959, to snatch three straight games from the Eagles.

The Eagles woes gladdened the Paul's Flowers aggregation, as they squeaked by with a couple of wins over ADELIN MARKET to take over undisputed first place with a 23-13 record. Sliding in with two wins Tuesday at second was Thur Meat Co. with a 22-14 mark, while the Eagles now have a 21-15 slate.

Ed Waltz of Jack's Inn racked up high individual series with 586, while top dog in the individual game classification was E. Gabriellini of Kennedy Electric with a 210.

Don Middleton, anchor man for the DC-Colma Lions, was the only turkey winner of the evening. He rolled the necessary strikes in the third, fifth and seventh frames.

Blanchard Contender For Starting Spot On SMJC Cage Squad

Larry Blanchard, 5' 10" guard from Jefferson Union High school, is a strong contender for a place on the San Mateo Junior college basketball squad that opens the season this Friday evening. Val-lejo jaycee will oppose the Matean Bulldogs in the San Mateo gym at 8 p.m.

Coach Ray Balsley has prospects of having the tallest team in San Mateo JC history. Of 16 men left after initial squad cuts, ten pass the six foot mark. Two of them are 6' 8" and one in 6' 7". The squad's two veterans are Bob Auliffe, 5' 11" guard, and Dino Ruffoni, 6' 5 1/2" center.

It has been estimated 85,000,000 Americans are covered by hospital insurance.

SSF Proves Turkey In Thanksgiving Day Grid Fest With Jeff

The highest scoring Jefferson football team in the school's history pulled out the stops last week in the traditional Thanksgiving day melee against South San Francisco, humbling the Warriors, 40 to 6.

First score was chalked up in the initial quarter by Jim Honeywell, going over tackle, while a Ray Rosa to Jim Minor aerial later that same period clicked for another six, giving the Jeffs a 13-0 margin at the first quarter's close.

In the second period the Indians continued to go straight down the field on offense, with Rosa's passing contributing to two more scores.

After a sustained march, Jim Honeywell again boomed over through the line and Rosa passed for the conversion.

Later in the second period Rosa passed in the flat to Don Delbon, who lateraled to Wally Honeywell on the Warrior 48 yard line and Honeywell went all the way.

It was in the second period that the South Citizens got their only score, when Ronnie Vom Steeg skirted end for 12 yards and a tally.

With a healthy lead, the Jefferson eleven had an opportunity to employ some flashy offensive maneuvers, one of which was the "Madden spread," invented by Coach Joe McGrath.

In this play Center John Madden was made eligible as a pass receiver by placing the entire front wall to his right. This play clicked twice for 20 yards, one of them for a touchdown.

The other Jeff score was registered by Bill Butler, who smashed over right guard for two yards after his teammates had engineered themselves downfield again into scoring position.

Rosa was again spectacular through the airways, hitting on 13 of 18 attempts for 195 yards. He also was handy on defense, turning in two crucial interceptions.

John Geertsens made good on three of five point-after-touchdown tries.

In total yardage gained, the locals had 387, to 183 for the losers. Jefferson made 272 yards on the ground, as compared with 179 for South City. The Warriors were held to four yards through the air, comparing poorly with Rosa's 195.

About the only thing the Indians lost last week was the Sportsmanship Trophy, presented each year to the school which shows the best all-around sportsmanship in the traditional rivalry.

Actually, it was a tie vote among the deciding officials, so decision was placed in the hands of the referee, who gave the nod to South City, probably as a consolation prize.

The win gave the Indians a 5-2 season record and third place in league standings.

SARTO MIDGETS TOP EXCELSIOR, 10 to 2

Capitalizing on 14 walks and six hits, the Sarto Midgets topped Excelsior, 10 to 2, Saturday for their second straight win.

Larry Kane pitched steady ball for the midgets.

JEFF 20s ANNEX PAL CAGE CHAMPIONSHIP

Leading all the way, Jefferson high school's 20s basketball team won their second league crown in three years last week by beating Menlo-Atherton, 31 to 26, in the third and deciding contest for the championship.

The win gave the Indians a 2-1 record in the north-south champions divisional playoffs.

Working conventional plays, and hitting a fair percentage of their field goal attempts, Coach Mike Orlich's five led 13 to 11 at half-time.

Operating with a four-man offense, dropping one man back on defense, the Jeffs held Menlo's fast-break potential in check.

The locals still held the lead, 24 to 21, at the close of the third period, but were threatened late in the final quarter.

In the last three seconds, with Jefferson leading three points, a Menlo player was fouled, entitling him to two free throw attempts.

But a blooper by the Menlo coach probably saved the outcome for the locals. The opposition tutor called a time out and it proved to be his sixth, causing a foul to be charged against his team.

Jeff Forward Dick Kalinin made good on the one-pointer and the Jeffs then tied the ball up. On the tip, Guard George Miller retrieved the ball and tossed it to Ken Angullo on the fast break.

The lay-in was good and that iced the championship for the locals.

Kalinin led the scoring efforts for the Indians with 14 points on five field goals, four free throws. Angullo was runner-up with 10 points on five field goals.

FORMER JEFF GREAT PLAYS IN BIG GAME

Pat McCool, All-PAL and northern California quarterback at Jefferson in 1949 and '50 made his debut in big-time football and television simultaneously Saturday as he played with Navy in their classic rivalry against Army.

McCool, a 205-pounder who stands six foot, one inch, has been converted to a tackle position and played in that spot during the second and third quarters of Saturday's game which saw his team outclassed, 21 to 7.

His father, Archie McCool, of 1030 Post street, San Francisco, watched the game on TV and said his son "looked very good."

It marked the first varsity game for McCool, a sophomore at Annapolis.

He spent his freshman year at Columbian prep.

Alta Roofers Clinch Adult Cage League By Topping Gigli

Led by Harvey Cranow's 20-point scoring spree, Alta Roofers put the recreation Adult Basketball league in their pocket Monday night by squeaking by Gigli Plumbing, 54 to 53. Gigli started fast behind the accurate eye of Doug North, who hit 20 points for the evening, and led at half time, 26 to 22.

With but six minutes to go in the final quarter Gigli appeared to have the game and a tie for first in league standings all wrapped up.

But Cranow broke their backs with a 12-point scoring surge in the final minutes, tanking four field goals and an equal number of free throws.

With a minute remaining, Gigli led, 53 to 52. Don Stow, Gigli center, was then fouled, giving him a chance to clinch the game with two free throws. But he missed both chances, and Alta took the rebound. Cranow was fouled going under the bucket and made both charity tosses to win the game.

The win gave Alta a final 4-0 record, compared with a 2-2 for Gigli and Ralph's Cleaners. Bringing up the rear are Sarto A.C., 1-2, and Hoyt Water Heaters, 0-3.
